Provision of the last four digits of a social security number is not mandatory, but if this information is not given or an indication is not made that the signer does not have such a number, the application cannot be approved. The last four digits of the social security number may be used to identify the household member in carrying out efforts to verify the correctness of information stated on the application. These verification efforts may be carried out through program reviews, audits, and investigations and may include contacting employers to determine income, contacting a Food Assistance Program or welfare office to determine current certification for receipt of Food Assistance Program or TANF benefits, contacting the state employment security office to determine the amount of benefits received and checking the documentation produced by the household member to prove the amount of income received. These efforts may result in a loss or reduction of benefits, administrative claims or legal actions if incorrect information is reported. We may share your eligibility information with education, health, and nutrition programs to help them evaluate, fund, or determine benefits for their programs; auditors for program reviews; and law enforcement officials to help them look into violations of program rules.
